Editorial

THE 10:30 BY-LAW

An interesting development arose in Lindsay Council's regular meeting this week when Councillor M. DeGroot failed to get a second for a motion which called for the enforcement of the 10:30 BY-LAW. . . . No one apparently wanted to quit on time and the councillors usually make a long enough to move that it is almost unparaphrase.

For the benefit of those who may not be familiar with the 10:30 by-law, it is a regulation designed to fix the hour at which councils meetings shall adjourn. In recent years it has seldom been adhered to but it is supposed to be they may proceed with a clear conscience.

Mr. DeGroot tried, unsuccessfully, to have the by-law enforced and we are sorry that he didn't succeed. It is about time that someone recognized that people cannot spend 10 per cent or better of the night doing business and then be expected to perform efficiently the next day. More frequent meetings of shorter duration would benefit everyone.

The early councillors who drafted the 10:30 by-law had something on the brain . . . They had sense enough to recognize the wisdom of limiting their hours of deliberation and to realize that beyond a certain point they were tired doing an important job with less than the ordinary efficiency it required.

TAR BURNS: 'THERAPEUTIC TOWN HALL'
The fire brigade received a call quite close to home and extinguished a spectacular blaze that for a moment or two threatened the town hall. Workmen were busy repairing the numerous holes in the pavement around town. A tar and gravel mixture was being used and was mixed on the market square behind the town hall. In the mixing process the tar was heated to a high temperature in a large tank. Workmen endeavored to move this into the small cement block building at the back of the hall when rain threatened to spoil the mixture. In the moving some boards placed at the tar caught fire and before many minutes the tank containing the tar was a blazing inferno, sending flames forty feet in the air and a cloud of smoke all over the business section of the town.

LIGHTNING STRIKES SCHOOL, TWO HURT
Two people were injured when lightning struck a bell tower at a school at Somerville. The lightning struck the bell tower and travelled down the bellwire, starting a small fire which was soon extinguished. The names of the pupils injured were not available.

THE COLDS FACT ABOUT DRINKING AND DRIVING

A drinking driver was involved in at least 80% of all U.S. traffic accidents last year.
Twelve per cent of the adult population killed had been drinking.

Special-Highly studies showed that 85% of the Christmas season, fatal traffic accidents involved a drinking driver.
Twenty-fourth per cent of the Labor Day fatal traffic accidents involved a drinking driver.

In many accident cases the fact that a driver had been drinking is not recorded and is never entered in the driver's official record.

In spite of past and present efforts to increase safety, the law and traffic enforcement, no more drinking drivers are still operating on our streets and highways.

The social dilemma is a greater menace than commonly believed, as their critical judgment is impaired with the fairly low alcohol concentration and they out-number the obviously intoxicated drivers.

Drinking to any extent reduces the ability of any driver. Small amounts of alcohol reduce judgment, self-control and driving ability.

Alcohol is not a stimulant and is classified medically as depressant.

Loss of judgment and the capacity for self-control occurs before obvious symptoms of incoordination.

It takes at least three hours to oxidize (eliminate) one ounce of pure alcohol about 200 calories.

Two cocktails (about 0.04% of alcohol in the blood) may reduce visual acuity as much as wearing dark glasses at night.

Under the "Influence" means that, due to drinking alcohol, a person has lost (to any degree) some of the clearness of mind and self-control that he would normally possess.

You do not have to be obviously intoxicated to be "Under the Influence" and an unsafe driver.

Pure alcohol never has odor on the breath — it is the "flavor" in the beverage that causes the odor.

Chemical or other stimulants will not offset the effects of alcohol. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the blood stream.

Official tests provide the police with scientific means to determine whether or not alcohol has reduced a driver's ability.

Improving Nail

Usually an improving nail can be cured in about five days by applying alum. It is not painted in the least and is usually effective. Apply a foundation of soap and water for 24 hours before doing, then pour the alum into the bowl, tampon with cotton to keep the alum in place, and repeating the application daily.

Kabonite

To remove kabonite damage the surface thoroughly with water, and then brush off the kabonite with a stiff brush. If the water does not remove the kabonite sufficient, use a very small amount of hydrochloric acid on it; but in that case, the wall must be washed off.

Interwoven with clear water to remove the acid.

See Throat
Alternate gargles of peroxide and laudanum, well diluted with water, is often effective.

Customs

 day was revealed by Mr. Williamson when he disclosed that revenue collected by his office amounted to $14,000 yearly.

In all his 20 years with the department, he only recalls receiving one sum of considerable money.
 This was for ten dollars and naturally he doesn't know who had the guilty conscience which prompted the remittance.

"Everybody has been very com-perative and I would like to express my appreciation to those who have come in contact with this office while I have been in charge," collector declared.

Since taking over here, Mr. Williamson has watched the nation's sales tax levy climb from six to ten per cent.

A former member of Lindsay's council and a sports enthusiast, he says he will find plenty to occupy his attention in this direction.

Always fond of biographical material, Mr. Williamson says he hopes his retirement will provide him with time to study the biographies of famous people. Top on the list of biographies he plans to read is the life of Abraham Lincoln.
 Presently owner of a cottage on a lake near Lindsay, he says he has never seen centre road around travelling "you get tired of going to a cottage," he said.

BITTER REFLECTION—Sharing a family reunion, John Freeland, 39, and his wife and daughter Linda Lee have to look in a mirror atop his iron lung to see each other at Colorado General Hospital in Denver. Freeland thought he was "too old" to need Salk vaccine shots, and now he is Colorado's first polio victim of 1959. His wife and child both got three Salk shots. The National Foundation has launched a new program aimed at reaching some 98 million persons, who, like Freeland, have neglected polio protection.

Albino deer,
calico duck

Mr. Victor Marshall of Nantua-ton informed the Dept. of Lands and Forests, Lindsay, that an albino deer has been seen frequently in Lindsay Township. This results in a calico duck which has been reviewed several times from Mariposa Township. At the 1958 Township Exhibition the department exhibitor a pair of ivory fawns, one of which was a true albino and the other perfectly normal.

Report Tiger-Cats may play
here while staying at Byrnell

Orders and builders started work this week on the site of Byrnell stadium. Tiger-Cats will spend a one-week practice camp at Byrnell stadium.

Byrnell stadium operated by a former player — Frank Stank — will offer the contingent all the facilities of the summer resort.

Located on the shores of Chamberlain Lake near Preston Falls, the players and club executives will spend a week at the resort. "The Big Four Football club will arrive in this district on July 13th."

"The Post" learns that the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce is at the moment negotiating with the Tiger-Cats to play an exhibition game at the Lindsay Exhibition grounds during the week they are in the area.

The players, who are expected to spend two to three weeks at Byrnell and hoteliers, will have the use of a nine-hole golf course plus swimming and fishing.

General manager of the T.C. Club, Byrnell, Mr. J. D. Stewart, is making arrangements at the Manor, where considering orders from several clubs of the summer in the west.

The last Big Four Football club to be in the summer in the west.
 camp was Toronto Argonauts. They abandoned the site after one season.
 Back in 1945, Toronto Indians of the O.P.U. played an exhibition game at Byrnell Manor during a short stop.

Mr. Stank told "The Post" that something like the club was very popular. The speaker and there had been several instances of changes of command officials building sites for nothing if the club would expect to visit Byrnell.

Representatives of the club are expected to visit Byrnell, where the near future to make final preparations for the camp.

Expect 15 people
will lose jobs
due to change

Some 15 employees, both male and female, are expected to be dismissed from the Lindsay Woolen Works within the next few weeks.

The reason for the impending dismissals is due to the fact that one of the finishing processes in the plant is being transferred to Quebec, Canada.

It is reported that approximately 60 people are employed at the William Street north plant at the present time.

News from week ending May 24th. The local L.O.G.O. visited with the Lindsay Ladies Grange Ladies on Friday evening and reported a good time.

Mrs. Harold Mason attended with Miss Peggy Mason the wedding of the Lindsay Ladies Grange Ladies, her niece in Toronto on Saturday. Mrs. David Tull is visiting with her son Bill and family of Burlington at present.

The "Red Macintosh" spent the weekend with the Ralph Macintosh of Peterborough, attending the Sportsman's Show, also being present at the "Red Thurling" service and the dedication of the ground upon which the new Northminster United Church is to be built on Bunsell Blvd. North Peterborough, Her. and Mrs. James Burn and children of Shurtall Lake, were guests during the week of the mother, Mrs. R. J. B. - - - the brother and family, the John Burns, Mr. Roy Macintosh.

A speedy recovery from his illness. The term stock sale of Mrs. C. English, thought almost rained out, was well attended, fairly good prices were realized and the ladies of the W.I. who fortified the buyers with sandwiches, pie and coffee also realized a small share of profit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walker visited friends in Howanville Sunday.

Total results for the highly successful Old Guides Sale held recently in Lindsay reached the amount of $4,800 and all concerned are very pleased with this marvellous effort. The co-conveners were Mrs. W. Walker and Mrs. W. Humphries, helped by many of the parents and friends of the Guides. Cassom, Lucien Patis, Grange and Lindsay folks were among the willing helpers.

The people from Preston served the very useful purpose of forming a "Clean-up Squad" after the final sale. As many as from 60 to 80 helpers were at one time engaged on the enterprise.

After 5:30 p.m. on the final day purchasers were invited to take "as much as they could carry" for one dollar and some heavily laden people departed with their treasures, which included, in one case, a complete wash basin and bath.

Many of the Guides helped in the background and this was much appreciated by the organizers. A poster competition, which had been previously held for the young ladies, helped to advertise their project, and was credited with making it a great success.

Despite bad weather "The Thunder Flash Training Program" held its meeting on Tuesday evening with fine results.

A Lindsay man comments on Victoria's Historical Society

The Victoria County Historical Society has inspired Dr. W. Scherer of Lindsay as subject of the following interesting and informative article on the preservation of things historic generally and as applied to the Lindsay.

After his arrival in Lindsay, Dr. Scherer has been studying the institutions, customs and character of the Lindsay people.

Most of the best things in any civilization have their roots in the past. In all we must still look to the old and older countries, whose customs and institutions have been part of the past.

On the whole however, the history of our country illustrates the truth of the community of history.

The transplanting of European institutions to the new world and their development under new conditions.

Most of our institutions have grown by evolution from the beginning of the early settlers and brought them from their home across the sea.

Just as proud as we can be of the institutions left us in sacred trust by our forefathers, we must do our share to keep and preserve it for the generations to come.

To give a people a new sense of history, we need first the historians, who will give them a new sense of the past.

By giving people a sense of continuity in all their efforts to conquer upon their feet, the history of the human achievement.

It is indeed much more than a sentimental matter of a historical reverence which induces us to preserve and treasure the things and thoughts of the past.

The characteristics of a region and of the economic activities of the people are woven into the fabric of the past.

These things of the past present a picture of deep interest to anyone who wishes to know our forefathers better.

These historical facts represent an accumulation of valuable details, which otherwise might be lost.

Yelverton

 The Yelverton community is extended to Mrs. William McCabe in the passing of her brother, Bruce Yelverton.

The Premier declines a spade

Premier Leslie M. Post, probably aware that he would be too busy to do any digging during the election he was seen to announce, made Mayor Lloyd Burrows a presentation of a silver spade placed upon a pedestal, a presentation of the honor for the Girls' Training School end-turning ceremony. Mayor Burrows accepted the gift just as the ward Warden Murphy of Victoria County (entire left) prepared to spade out a portion of sod-less soil on the site of the training school which is several hundreds yards west of the recently opened Public Works Building erected by the province.

FENCING FACTS FOR FARMERS

Some news of special interest to our farm subscribers

STARTER FERTILIZER
 Chemical fertilizer applied to the soil immediately after transplanting, even in fertile soil will stimulate early root ripening.

C. W. Wolf of the Modern Experimental Farm, says tomato treated in this way ripened 4 to 6 days earlier and yielded up to 10 per cent more ripe fruit than those not treated.
 "Peritizers used in starter solution are specially prepared. They must be easily soluble and have a stimulant effect on the transplants."

Excellent results have been obtained at Modern with a complete fertilizer, 15-30-15. Most commercial fertilizers, such as those designed for use on field crops, namely, 11-16-0 and 18-20-0 ammonia phosphate are not suitable for plant starter solutions because they disperse with difficulty in water and do not produce the desired effect on tomato.

The recommended rate of application in the form of starter solution should be dissolved for best results. One half pound of 15-30-15 starter solution should be dissolved in a gallon of water. Apply a cupful of solution at the base of each plant, starting by hand or by the special attachment used for this purpose on field spraying machines. This should be done by the hand or by the special attachment used for this purpose on field spraying machines.

Usually spring and fall weather is too cool and showery to allow quick drying out of quick grass roots. In fact, after a period of summer rain, it is often found that the roots needed to what is better to use some crop to extend out the remaining quick grass roots. In fact, after a period of summer rain, it is often found that the roots needed to what is better to use some crop to extend out the remaining quick grass roots.

Chemical treatments for quick grass are effective, but have two disadvantages. First, they must be used in advance of planting a crop. Detailed information on the treatment of quick grass is "Guide to Agriculture Publications," "Guide to Chemical Weed Control," obtainable from the growing extension, Rural Representative—Farm News.

Bovie vs Crown

for the alleged incident of April 11th. The witness testified that she had told her mother about Bovie's threats and she was in fear of going to work, she said her mother thought John was only bluffing as she decided to go to work.

In reply to a question as to why she had told no one of the threats, she said John was well liked and people would not have believed her. "I don't think my parents believed it," she added.

"What bothers me" and the preceding magistrate to this remark passed yesterday when she said it happened four or five times. "What exactly were you referring to?"

Miss Murphy told him that it was what you might call being mean. In reply to a question respecting her personal relations with the accused by the bench, the witness said: "I don't know how to answer this question."

The magistrate then asked the witness if what she said yesterday was true or if she wished to deny it. He said he could not see the witness was to a terrible case.

... She might be willing to protect the family. Miss Murphy replied that there were some questions asked yesterday she didn't understand and she was going to write answers. "I don't think I can give any other explanation," she said.

FRIDAY'S HEARING

Doctor testifies Bovie Appeared disinterested

Nine-year-old Pat Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Murphy, 9 R. 1, Lindsay, giving evidence in Lindsay Magistrate's Court Thursday afternoon, told the court how he had been told by John Bovie with a knife pressed against his back.

The youngster told him, on the evening of April 11th, John Bovie had come to his home, and told him, and then grabbed him by the neck of the shirt and grabbed the ground against his chest. The boy said he tried to say something but couldn't.

One of the final witnesses at Thursday afternoon's hearing, Dr. L. V. Shier, told the court the wound inflicted upon the boy was not a snail wound. The doctor said it was his opinion the youngster would have died if the wound had not been treated.

The witness agreed that a certain amount of pressure would have to be put on a knife to cause such a wound. Questioned by Defence Counsel M. J. Cunningham regarding Bovie's condition at the time he arrived on the scene, the witness said he appeared disinterested. "I everybody else was upset about the accused event."

The trial of 11-year-old John Bovie on a charge of assault with intent to wound, continuing before the magistrate to continue this afternoon.

The first witness to be heard at Thursday's April 11th hearing was Mrs. Anne Murphy. The witness told the court she had been told by Bovie on the phone in February, "I told him to leave Ellen alone."

Bovie testified that his daughter Ellen had been called the house. Mrs. Murphy testified that her daughter Ellen had been called the house. Mrs. Murphy testified that her daughter Ellen had been called the house.

Turning to the right of the alleged incident the witness told the court her husband was in the barn when Bovie arrived at the farm. Ellen, she recalled, had dashed up to the bedroom. Bovie and Mrs. Murphy stood in the hall looking

Pat in front of him with a knife to his back. The accused, whose eyes she described were wild, said to her, "I hate you more than any one in this world; if you don't tell me about our both you and Pat will get it."

Continuing the witness said that at that moment her husband came in the back door and grabbed for the knife, she recalled seeing it fall from Bovie's grasp into the floor.

Bovie continued Mrs. Murphy then made a wild dash for my husband and knocked him down. He then turned on me, she said.

The witness went on to tell the court how Bovie had punched her in the face of the nose, breaking her glasses. The next thing the witness said she remembered was seeing Bovie dash upstairs and locking the bedroom door which Ellen had locked. It was while the youth was upstairs that the doctor and police were summoned to the scene, she stated.

"THE POST", LINDSAY, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, MAY 6TH, 1959

Continuing her testimony, the witness said she saw Bovie lying in a heap at the foot of the stairs. He was breathing something like fire coming on the kitchen when he was down, she stated. The witness further testified that following a few minutes silence Bovie threw a wave of money amounting to $18 on the table with the remark that it was to help him pay the doctor's bill.

He later took his knife and returned it with a $20 bill. "Pat Murphy," who was one of the first witnesses called at the afternoon session, told the court that after Bovie released him he ran to the living room where he lay down.

In answer to a question from Defence Counsel M. J. Cunningham as to what he himself of Bovie, the youngster said he was sort of mad at him.

The boy's father - Basil Murphy - told the court in evidence that he was on the barn when he heard a loud noise coming from the house. As he made his way from the barn, he said he saw his daughter Ellen jumping from the stairs.

The witness recalled the witness called seeing Bovie holding a knife to his back and he was about to strike him as he entered the kitchen door. He said, he thought at the time the accused was holding a knife to his back and he was about to strike him.

After a brief struggle, telling the father, the knife fell to the floor. Mr. Murphy later stated he picked up the knife and found it was unsheathed. The witness said Bovie was like a wild man. After the second count downstairs he came into the kitchen and uttered "What I do?"

"The witness said he remembered something being thrown at him by Bovie shortly after the incident. On Monday morning while cleaning out the stove a charged long-bladed jack-knife was found among the debris.

In cross-examination Mr. Murphy said he remembered seeing a baseball bat lying outside the kitchen door and that his first impulse was to pick it up.

He was asked if this was the thought he had at the time he saw the knife. He said that Bovie might have a knife in his possession. He said there was no indication the knife had been thrown.

Dr. Shier recalled he had received a telephone call from the Murphy residence on the evening of April 11th asking "come quickly we are all out and locked." He said that on his arrival at the home at the same time as the police, everyone appeared very upset.

Besides the deep wound-one-half inch long-cut to the neck of Pat Murphy there were cuts to the thumb of the youngster as well as cuts to Mr. and Mrs. Murphy to be attended to.

The doctor stated that if the knife had been driven into the flesh it would have caused a serious injury.

SATURDAY'S HEARING

Bovie hearing is adjourned

OPP Counsellor Harvey Cook, on the stand in Lindsay Magistrate's Court Friday afternoon, told the court that on April 11th when he arrived at the Murphy dwelling a considerable amount of blood was spattered all over the wall and living room. The witness was given evidence in the case of the blood on the wall of the house with latent word coming today to the court.

On going on to describe the scene he said he saw a large amount of blood on the wall of the house. He said he saw a large amount of blood on the wall of the house.

When asked a question respecting Bovie's condition at this time, the witness said he seemed disinterested, everybody else was upset while he wasn't.

Nine-year-old Pat Murphy was recalled by the crown to answer questions regarding the injury to his thumb before the proceedings were adjourned.

MONDAY'S HEARING

MAGISTRATE DENIES MOTION BY BOVIE'S COUNSEL

Magistrate R. I. Moore, this morning, denied a motion by Mr. M. J. Cunningham that there was no evidence of wounding established against his client, John Bovie. The Crown Counsel submitted that the very most the accused was guilty of was common assault.

The presiding magistrate in denying the motion, said that while it was true no evidence had been heard saying that anyone had seen the wound being inflicted, the wound, in his opinion, could have been inflicted upon four-year-old Pat Murphy's neck before his father's attack at the room.

The wound did occur and had occurred when the boy was released by Bovie and a splashing of blood followed him into the living room, declared the magistrate.

There was once again a crowded courtroom for the continuance of the trial of John Bovie, charged with assault with intent to wound causing bodily harm to Pat Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Murphy, 9 R. 1, Lindsay.

Crown attorney L. W. Jordan said the court had proved innocent. He reminded the court that Pat Murphy, when testifying, had said he felt the edge of the knife on his neck before his father entered the room.

In answer to a question from Mr. Cunningham regarding whether there was any indication that anyone had been on the bed, the witness replied "no."

OPP Counsellor Harvey Cook who was the last witness to be called Friday, testified that he received a message to proceed to the Murphy residence at 9 R. 1, Lindsay at approximately 7:30 on the evening of April 11th. Continuing, the officer said he and Dr. Shier arrived at the same time. Describing the scene, the officer said both Mr. Bovie and Mrs. Murphy's faces were covered in blood, "all the family were men were called to give evidence," he concluded.

River Drivers Shepherd Rich Harvest to Mills Canada's Spring Log Drive

Each year the warm April sun bursts the ice on thousands of rivers and streams across Canada and the spring log drive, dramatic climax of the country's winter lumbering operations, takes place. Millions of logs go floating down myriad waterways to the ever-growing number of mills dotted throughout the 10 provinces. There, the rich harvest of Canada's forests is seen and stored for the country's number one dollar earner: the pulp and paper industry. Above, on Quebec's swift flowing St. Maurice River, skilled river drivers guide their craft through turbulent, foam-flecked waters, forcing logs that are hung up along the shore, and looking for log jams which they will break up with their long-handled pole-picks or with dynamite.

Expert river drivers, who combine great skill with strength and daring, can prevent many a log jam from piling up in narrow streams and at the bend of rivers. Experienced men earn up to $10 a day.

At Three Rivers, Quebec, newsprint is loaded for export to the United States. Canada's woods, the world's number one producer of newsprint, annually produces half of the world's consumption of this vital commodity.

Over 80% of the wood used in pulp and paper manufacture is floated to the mill. Canada's forests, which cover almost half of her total land area, consume her most important natural resource and together with the forest-based industries, support more than one million Canadians.

Business about banquet settled at WA meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Canadian St. United Church Evening WA. A. was held in the Church Parlor with the president, Francis Thorne in the chair.

Alma Shier's group was in charge of the devotional. Leslie Hadden and the scripture followed by a devotional reading by Lena Grier. Alma Shier closed the devotional with a prayer.

The president then took charge of the business part of the meeting. Mrs. Grier was reported on the Nominating Committee by Charles Grier. This committee was advised that they should bring in their new slate of officers at the May meeting.

Following the hearing of the treasurer's report several motions were made to purchase items necessary in the work of the group.

Business pertaining to the coming banquet was settled and the guest speaker, Mrs. John Moore, was introduced by the president.

Her talk was based on the Scripture, "Ist Corinthian, chapter 13," she shared with the group Her personal discussion on the subject of "Love." The work, though winding in 1941, was found to be as vital today.

Emily Wood thanked Mrs. Moore for her fine presentation of this address and the evening ended when Alma Shier's group moved home.

EVERYONE'S UNDER CONTROL . . . BUT IS IT REALLY?

Whenever a troublesome situation is presented to representatives of the more advanced levels of government, the problem has already been solved. It will have been solved at least a few days before the representatives of the less advanced levels of government (think of admitting that the canal system is antiquated and needs to be replaced) get to the point of making such a case. Actually, it's probably too much to expect anything so forthright because such an admission would look bad. There is some indication that it would make it appear as though there had been a slip-up in the overall plan which had somehow escaped the attention of the experts and no one likes to be embarrassed in front of his superiors.

It is probably safe to predict that the extent of shipping traffic along the seaway route has caused some of the same problems that have been encountered with improved canal and locking facilities, seaway shipping will create proportionate not vanquished by the most optimistic of its proponents.

Everyone is liable to make a mistake or miscalculation and this applies no less to government than to individuals since governments are only groups of individuals with their inherent human limitations.

MUTUAL AID FIGHTING PRaised

The effectiveness of "mutual aid" was demonstrated to hundreds of witnesses at last week's Blackwell Building fire. The fire broke out in the basement of the building, a fire which threatened the downtown business section of Lindsay's downtown business section.

Dozens of people praised the arrangement whereby the fire department was called in to fight the fire. The fire was not a serious outbreak. No one doubted that it had not been for the swift response to the general alarm, loss and the fire's spread would have been far greater.

The fire department's response was a credit to the fire department's response to the fire. The fire department's response was a credit to the fire department's response to the fire.

The fire department's response was a credit to the fire department's response to the fire. The fire department's response was a credit to the fire department's response to the fire.

Who says co-operation doesn't pay dividends?

OPEN SIDEWALK GRILLS

Cigarette smoking in downtown areas has long been considered a nuisance for many years. The fact is that the cigarette smoker is a nuisance to the non-smoker. The cigarette smoker is a nuisance to the non-smoker. The cigarette smoker is a nuisance to the non-smoker.

Here's some revealing comments by C.J. Harris who took over observing affairs of the nation from James Earl Ray.

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND

Having hit the public over the head with a batch of new taxes, our parliamentarians are quick to suggest that when prices bounced up it was profiteering and not taxation that was the villain in the piece. A week after budget day Harold Wilson, the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, said that the government planned any legislation or other action "to protect consumers against unscrupulous manufacturers."

The question having been asked, it was inevitable that the answer would be given. The answer was that the government was not the people's friend. The government was not the people's friend. The government was not the people's friend.

A spokesman for the tobacco industry managed to get more than a few questions with a case for the defence. Although the industry's spokesman was not the people's friend, he was not the people's enemy. He was not the people's enemy. He was not the people's enemy.

And as a footnote to the suggestion that it is profitable and not taxes that are responsible for high prices for food, it might be added that the cost of the price of a packet of cigarettes is now just a shade under 20 cents.

It is further foolishness. It might be observed that the slice the government takes out of other products would make revealing reading.

BUT IT'S BARELY NOTICEABLE!

There's been considerable "do" about the fact that the cost-of-living has been going down month by month for the past several years but its decline is barely noticeable in the average family budget. In fact, the cost-of-living has been going down month by month for the past several years but its decline is barely noticeable in the average family budget.

The one really hopeful aspect about the recent reports is that there is at least an indication of leveling off in the overall picture. . . . Here's hoping it continues and that it becomes a reality.

YOU MAY FIND THIS INTERESTING . . . WE DID

H. Newman, writing under the column of the publisher of the "Post" and "The Canadian Contentionary and Variety Journal" made some observations on the world today which express in interesting and thought-provoking terms what many people have had but which they have never set down on paper.

As a visitor from another world, arriving for the first time on our earth, would imagine that the main pre-occupation of nearly every nation is destruction. The main pre-occupation of nearly every nation is destruction. The main pre-occupation of nearly every nation is destruction.

War and intention of war appears to be the ideological basis of all human life.

War and intention of war appears to be the ideological basis of all human life. War and intention of war appears to be the ideological basis of all human life.

"Sometimes it is more than myopic stubbornness. The inflexibility of the military or the politician's mind is a result of the human tendency to follow a subsequent agreement or agreement of terms which could well have been drafted before senseless, irrational conflict."

And the fatalistic outlook goes far deeper. Scientists are conditioned to produce weapons to destroy not aids to better survival. Two-thirds of the world's population is conditioned to produce weapons to destroy not aids to better survival.

Western governments, no less than their counterparts in Eastern Bloc, deal with regimes all too often corrupt, pandering to dynasties for political reasons. Western governments, no less than their counterparts in Eastern Bloc, deal with regimes all too often corrupt.

"Does the building of satellites to reach the moon and the planetary satellite Dog Star, does it serve except to satisfy the vanity of man? Should there not be a greater attempt for a meeting of minds to grapple with the realities of life?"

Long ago men tried to build a tower of Babel in an attempt to reach the heavens, just as we now seek to land on the moon and man, so we are looking to the multiplicity of weapons, nuclear contamination and confusion. Today there is just a repetition. It is time there was a reversal of attitude, and we sought the way to peace and brotherhood in one language with a common aid of benefiting this very human world."

Press Comment

ABUSE OF FREEDOM

In any discussion of the privileges of academic freedom in the English-speaking world, the central point is that these freedoms were created for scholars to defend their belief in the customs and civil order of the land.

Academic freedom — the right to inquire and to disseminate knowledge — is a privilege of scholars and Cambridge Universities in England. In former times, scholars were required to take an oath of allegiance to the King before they were admitted to the academic community. The oath was to the King, unless they upheld the official religion of the state.

In other words, scholars who made English universities were not permitted to engage in political agitation. The privileges of academic freedom were not extended to those who sought to attack the civil order of the land.

Modern universities in Canada have cultivated these facts of history. The notion has been ingrained that professors have a license, not only to inquire and to discuss the results of their inquiries, but to engage in every sort of political activity and to write can-

HE WILL BE MISSED

It was with a sense of personal loss that numerous people learned of the death over the weekend of Councillor Russell Lamb. He will be missed in many quarters.

Lamb served Lindsay faithfully first as a member of the Public School Board (one of its longest-line members) and then as a member of the City Council. He was always a pleasure to deal with him because you could be sure he was sincere and that what he did was with honest intent. . . . There was no more and no alternative but to bid adieu to a man of such a person from a community is indeed a great loss.

NO TIME TO BECOME COMPLACENT . . .
No matter what day someone asked why it was that we heard so much about the prevalence of rabies during the cold months and now very much about the disease which has blazed havoc in the wild and domestic animals. There was some speculation that this could have been due to the fact that the disease had run its course, culminating now, been revised in the light of reports which are coming in this week.

Apparently tulle can be experienced in the course of the epidemic only to have it flare up with renewed vigour. Oxford Township (Western Ontario) has experienced a sudden increase in rabies disease after it was thought to have petered out. A weekend report from this district tells of a raccoon which was shot and which is supposed to have been rabid, both incidents indicating that this is no time to become complacent about the disease which is known to be especially virulent contracted by humans. It is imperative that vigilance is maintained of anyone coming in contact with animals to ensure that any sign of abnormal behaviour are dealt with effectively. In wild animals afflicted with the disease, the natural fear of humans leaves them and they may either become overly belligerent or allow a human to come too close. Anyone having been bitten by an animal suspected of being rabid should seek medical attention promptly.

A SENSIBLE OBSERVATION IN THESE TIMES

Apparently about every magazine you see on the radio broadcast you listen to and many television shows, are giving a big picture to the space age. . . . Man's effort to conquer outer space and reach such remote places as the moon and other planets within a few hundred thousand miles of the earth. Some of this is entertaining and it must be admitted that progress is being made, and, knowing man, it is likely the ultimate goal will be achieved barring unforeseen developments of a supremely deterring nature.

Notwithstanding all the achievements and the space-minded, one of the world's foremost leading neurosurgeons has made some observations on the subject which probably caused those who read his remarks to shudder and shudder through. The man was Dr. Wilder Penfield and he urged mankind to concentrate on exploiting the human mind before attempting to conquer outer space.

"Leave the stars to move in their ordered courses," he said. "Man and his mind is our problem. . . . in the brain of man there is a microcosm no less vast than that of the universe."

He said the brain is the organ of human destiny and in it "the secrets of God's purpose are revealed as well as in the stars, secrets of great import to mankind."

A sensible observation in these times.

WHAT, NO STRETCHERS?
City Defence (Lindsay) has been in progress for considerable time in Lindsay and when one thinks of civil defense, it is natural to associate it to some extent at least, with rescue work in time of disaster. This in turn would conjure up thoughts of stretchers for the injured. It was therefore with considerable surprise that members of Town Council learned the other day that there were no stretchers in the City. The revelation came following the fire last week when a fireman was overcome by smoke and no one could locate a stretcher on which to carry him away.

In summary report it seemed that the Fire Department was presented with a stretcher some years ago but this may have outlived its usefulness and been replaced by a new stretcher. In any event, one stretcher in any kind of major disaster wouldn't be too much of an asset. And since the cost of this equipment is not great, perhaps the City or the Department nor the Civil Service unit should be restricted to one stretcher between them. What do you think?

HOW ABC PROTECTS ADVERTISING INVESTMENTS
FIELD PRODUCED FACTS—Circulation facts appearing in the ABC Audit Report are the results of a detailed analysis of all ads and records by a specially trained auditor. All ABC audits are conducted in the office of the publication where such records are available, and may require the auditor's contact with such other sources as dealers, carriers, and subscribers to insure accuracy. ABC provides further assurance of accuracy by subjecting these field produced facts to review by its own circulation auditor.

UNIFORM STANDARDS—All ABC-audited circulation is measured and reported on the basis of uniform standards, established and maintained by the Audit Bureau's tripartite Board of Directors.

STANDARDIZED REPORTS—ABC Publisher's Statements, issued twice a year, and Audit Reports, issued annually, are standard in format, media group, circulation market and circulation analyses for daily newspapers serving the same market permit direct comparisons of data of competing papers.

TRIPLE BACKS—ABC audits establish accurate circulation counts as the basis for sound rates. Further, media buyers can, through the aid of ABC report breakdowns, determine the amount of effective cir-ulation for comparing rates with potential customers.

READER INTEREST—The payment for copies of a publication by readers is an important measure of reader interest. In that fact, it is the only measure of reader interest susceptible to exact mathematical count and accurate audit. This unique feature of the ABC audit is built into the audit, a guiding principle of the Bureau throughout its history.

CIRCULATION QUALITY—ABC Reports provide facts on methods of circulation measurement, and the percentage obtained through special inducements and special sales avenues, and facts on the distribution and delivery of the paper's publication. Circulation figures are also included in evaluating the paper's ability to serve the market.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT—ABC's policies and procedures are approved by the Board of Directors, elected at an annual meeting of members. Auditing procedure are controlled by the Bureau's management. ABC audits are conducted by independent auditors operated independently of any other organization.

MARKETS—ABC standards are the uniform criteria by which the market of 566 cities in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, El Salvador, Mexico and Bermuda are defined. Further, occupational or business analyses of subscribers to ABC business publications, the definition of audience interests, are uniform and directly comparable for competing publications.

MARKET COVERAGE—ABC Audit Reports provide detailed circulation breakdowns which make it possible for the media buyer to relate distribution directly to market areas. Population and dwelling unit figures in daily newspaper reports, for example, are provided for comparison with circulation figures.

KNOWN VALUES—Advertisers invest in known and measured circulation values when they buy on the basis of ABC facts.

DRIVERS, TAKE HEED!
If you don't do anything else today, please read this letter.

Dear Driver:

A few weeks ago, I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a young man, face toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw all the plans that had been made for her dashed and I saw the look of despair that came over her face. I could only pray that a prayer that such a thing might never happen again.

Today my daughter, who is six years old, started off to school. He cocker spaniel, who name is Bambi, watched her leave and whined his belief in the safety of education.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me that the girl who got hit had blonde hair and yellow curls, and about the boy across the aisle who makes faces; and about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the school yard and the big girl who does not believe in Santa Claus."

We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital and unimportant things.

Now, as this is written, it is sound asleep with her doll "Paddy" in her arms.

When the doll gets broken or her finger cut or her head gets bumped I find it in my arms, and when she starts across the street—then, Mr. Driver, she is in your hands.

Mum, as I wish I could, it's not possible for me to be with her all the time, I have to work out for her home, her clothes, her education.

So Mr. Driver, please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully. Please drive slowly past schools and at intersections. And please remember that these children run from behind parked cars.

Please don't ask me any more questions.

With deep thanks for whatever you can do for her I am

Very sincerely yours,

FATHER.

This letter was written to the Elvira (N.Y.) Advertiser, which observes: "If any driver can resist its appeal, he has no business with a driver's license."

SIGNS OF THE TIMES
The agreement reached last week on uniform traffic signs for all Canada is to be commended, as every effort to make driving less hazardous must be. The achievement is important, for it is another example of national co-operation. Many jurisdictions were involved, but a proper spirit of constructive compromise prevailed during the negotiations.

The agreement is a logical prelude to the completion of the Trans-Canada Highway in 1961. Some early Canadian highways have already travelled right across Canada by car, but their number is few and their fame exclusive. It is still impossible to make the complete trip on a paved highway; the gravel gaps are being stretched, but stretched they are.

With completion of the national highway, however, Canadians will have a new motorized mobility. Interprovincial travel between East and West will be greatly facilitated. For greatly increased numbers of drivers in strange territory, it will be important that no confusion be caused by unfamiliar traffic signs.

The change in signs will benefit those drivers who never leave their own Province. The uniform signs will be improved over many of the old ones, being more legible and more specific. This is shown on symbols, in preference to verbal directions, is welcome, since they will be recognizable at a glance. The international signs in Europe and elsewhere are because of the great variety of languages, have been very successful in promoting highway safety.

Now that the problem has been solved, there is another which still remains to be solved. This must be made through joint conference to coordinate traffic laws in the 10 Provinces.

Most have the same basic rules, but there are some conflicts which could involve a stranger in an accident—rules regarding passing on the right, signalling for turns, turning right on a red light, and so on. This is more complex and perhaps more contentious problem than the matter of signs, but the need for co-operation is even greater.

Don't have to accept traffic deaths, injuries inevitable oil company president declares

Despite the fact that the automotive population of North America is multiplying faster than the human population, we do not have to accept as inevitable the traffic deaths and injuries we are presently suffering.

This was the opinion expressed last night by W. M. V. Ash, a former chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference and president of Shell Oil Company of Canada, in an address to the Alberta Safety Conference in Calgary.

Ash said that the human population of that province had increased by some 50 per cent from 1949 to 1957. Over the same period production of all motor vehicles had increased by more than 300 per cent.

Mr. Ash was convinced that it was possible to cut the appalling loss of life and money caused through traffic accidents even though the car population is rising steadily.

"Others have done it and we can do it in Canada," he said. "In the United States, although more vehicle traffic accidents do rank among the leading causes of death, nevertheless significant advances are being made in traffic safety. The all-time high of highway deaths in 1951, has not been exceeded since, in spite of a doubling of the miles driven that year."

According to Mr. Ash, this has been accomplished through leadership from President Eisenhower downwards. He made it clear, however, that direct action at the federal level is not the answer.

On the contrary, he felt that highway safety is fundamentally the responsibility of the province or state. But at the federal level action is feasible through leadership and inspiration and through cooperation in research on such matters as traffic, police and court problems.

After leadership at the provincial level, Mr. Ash believed that leadership at the corporate and the family level are next in importance. This was his first point, for example, he explained how a carefully organized company safety program and resulted in a steadily winning safety record.

In closing, he emphasized that there was no formula for achieving success in the safety movement. He felt that progress was being made slowly and that it would continue to be made if each individual plays his part in being aware of the danger and in the attack upon it.

"We need to have relatives and friends, valuable and trusted employees, millions of dollars, unless we do that simple thing. This is not a matter of emotion or compassion, it is a matter of using our heads," he said.

He added that, we need our heads because this work cannot be done in a surge of feeling, or by spontaneous speeches. It can only be done by the bit by bit, and orderly organization, by steady persistence, plugging away and by acceptance of all the conditions of a long-distance race.

Mr. Ash Rogers and his son-in-law, Mr. Douglas Corbett, spent a couple of days in Michigan during the last week.

Members, Roy Bailey and Harry Jenkins, returned to Peterborough on Saturday last and visited at the home of the former's brother-

Anniversary services held at Kinmount

Anniversary services were held in Kinmount United Church. A large number of visitors took advantage of the opportunity to worship and to hear the inspiring messages given by Rev. Hugh MacDonald of Minden.

It was with a great deal of pleasure that the congregation listened to Mr. J. Martin with the violin in the morning and played Beethoven's "The Heavens Record" and in the evening he accompanied the organ for the hymns as well.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Brown, the church was made more beautiful by several baskets of flowers.

'Survey Day' in Lindsay

Next Monday will be survey day in Lindsay's schools, when the day-long, tedious project of the Recreation Committee will be completed with the submission of the forms to 5,000 forms.

Forms to be distributed will include those intended to gain insight into the recreational activities and needs of school-age children and their parents. The forms are being sent to all schools in the town.

At the same time the survey forms are distributed in the schools, questionnaires for the summer swimming classes and junior tennis will also be given to the children. These will be returned to the Recreation office until the forms are made up in mid-June.

Canada Left In 'Cold' As Site For Winter Olympics

The International Olympic Committee today approved the 1964 Olympic Games to Tokyo and the winter games to Innsbruck, Austria, which was selected over Boston, Calgary and from Lahr, France.

Innsbruck was chosen by a small margin of votes compared with time for Calgary and none for Lahr.

Tokyo, a leading candidate for the summer games, was defeated by a large majority. Relative success said Tokyo received 34 votes for the first Olympic Games to be held in Asia and Detroit received 15, Vienna, six, and Brussels five.

Canadian Olympic officials—undoubtedly by the defeat—said they have a good chance of getting the 1968 Olympic Games.

"We never thought of competing would award the Winter Olympics to North America before an accession," a spokesman said, "but we wanted to be on the ground floor for 1968."

He said the 1968 Winter Games would crown Canada's 100th birthday celebrations in 1967.

"The committee would carry through to February 1968, and the Olympic Games would be a fantastic climax to our birthday celebrations," he added.

Now to make the Canadian presentation was Mayor Donald

Canadian Pro-Am. Team to Meet U.S. Announced

Nick Westlock, whose club will challenge the Carling Cup for Canada in last year's International Pro-Am match, today headed the amateur half of the Canadian team which will defend the title against U.S. June 20th at St. George's Golf and Country Club.

Supporting the Ontario championship team Monday by the R.C.A. are Canadian amateurs Bruce Galtier of Weston, Gary Davis of Toronto, and a student of Scarborough. They will team with professionals Sam Leonard, Al Bouding, Henry Marshall and Bud Loftus against the eight-man U.S. team.

In an effort to bring Canada a third straight P.A.A. victory.

In the interim, Canadian has not had a handicap in Canada's previous two appearances. A favorite in Toronto, the Western entries will crack the mid-four of amateur ranks and last summer when he captured the Carling Cup.

The Kitchener youth paired with Leonard to break Julius Brown and Phil Pate's record of 1947. The comeback that was clinched by Westlock's 100-yard pressure putt in the final green.

Like last year's matches, which drew 10,000 spectators to watching back, this year's Pro-Am competition will mark the only Toronto stop of the big pro names from U.S. and Canada. Although the U.S. has not yet named the pro half of its team, its amateur challengers insuperiorate, was the speaker and spoke on "Social Studies Project" for youth was "Mental Health." This show concluded with Mr. L. Dennis, Department of Education Social Commissioner, who spoke on "Ongoing Through the Grades."
